

Wstęp do literaturoznawstwa - Introduction to Literary Studies

The main objective of the course is to teach elementary theoretical and methodological tools in literary analysis. The students will learn basic terms and concepts applied in literary studies. They will practice their interpretative skills the work-shop method working on a selection of poetic and narrative texts. "Close-reading" of particular texts will be complemented by the study of relevant cultural and literary contexts.

Students performance will be assessed according to the following criteria:

Tasks – 25%

Written test – 50%

Presentations in class – 25%